Dr. Ford completed his medical school at the University of British Columbia, followed by a residency in Ophthalmology at Dalhousie University. He then undertook subspecialty training in Glaucoma through a fellowship at Yale University under the mentorship of Dr. Bruce Shields. He now practices in Calgary where he is a Clinical Assistant Professor at the University of Calgary, and his practice is primarily focused on cataracts and glaucoma. His research interests include novel glaucoma surgery and postoperative outcomes from cataract and glaucoma surgery. He is Secretary/Treasurer of the Canadian Glaucoma Society, and chairs the University of Calgary Visual Sciences Research Day.
